

SPE Norway One Day Seminar

14 May 2019 | Quality Hotel Edvard Grieg, Bergen, Norway

Student Registration Form

The Society of Petroleum Engineers invites full time undergraduate and post-graduate students studying Petroleum and Process Technology, Geology and Geophysics to register for free to attend the SPE Norway One Day Seminar.

The event is the industry's annual forum for discussion points, developments and technical challenges facing upstream oil and gas not only in the Norwegian Continental Shelf, but also in the wider sphere of exploration and production. As the only dedicated event in Norway addressing well, drilling, completion and intervention issues, the Seminar provides an excellent learning and networking experience among industry professionals.

Attendance also includes entry to the Future Leadership Programme – a dedicated student and young professionals lunch session during the Seminar on the 14th May and an informal networking drinks reception at the end of proceedings. The lunch will be an opportunity to hear from a senior VP in Equinor, and two young professionals now active in the oil and gas industry about their career progression since university days, their advice on career progression and their take on the skills now necessary for a career in E&P.

The first 30 completed registration forms received by SPE will gain free access to the Norway One Day Seminar and Future Leadership Programme courtesy of Wintershall's event sponsorship. Otherwise, the registration fee for students is 271 NOK (+25% VAT).

Please complete the information below and return the form by email to ecirvinskaite@spe.org by 7 May 2019.

We will contact you if the free allocation of places has already been filled in order to take your payment.
